Dear Colleagues,

RE: Access to training programmes delivered by the Clinical Education Centre

As you know, the health and social care system has been under significant pressure due to the Covid-19 outbreak. This has further impacted on the ability of staff to access relevant training for their professional requirements and to develop the recognised additional skills to meet the needs of the population at this time.

To address this challenge the Department has been working in partnership with our colleagues at the Clinical Education Centre. The current nursing and midwifery educational and training programmes have been adapted to be delivered via online teaching and E-Learning formats.

I am delighted to inform you that these programmes are now all available free of charge to all of your staff until 31st March 2021. Staff will be able to review the programmes available on: www.cec.hscni.net

Furthermore, I want to take this opportunity to personally thank you and your teams for the valuable contribution you continue to make in delivering safe and effective care to people in Northern Ireland.

Yours sincerely,

Charlotte McArdle
