

Future Nurse Future Midwife (FNFM)

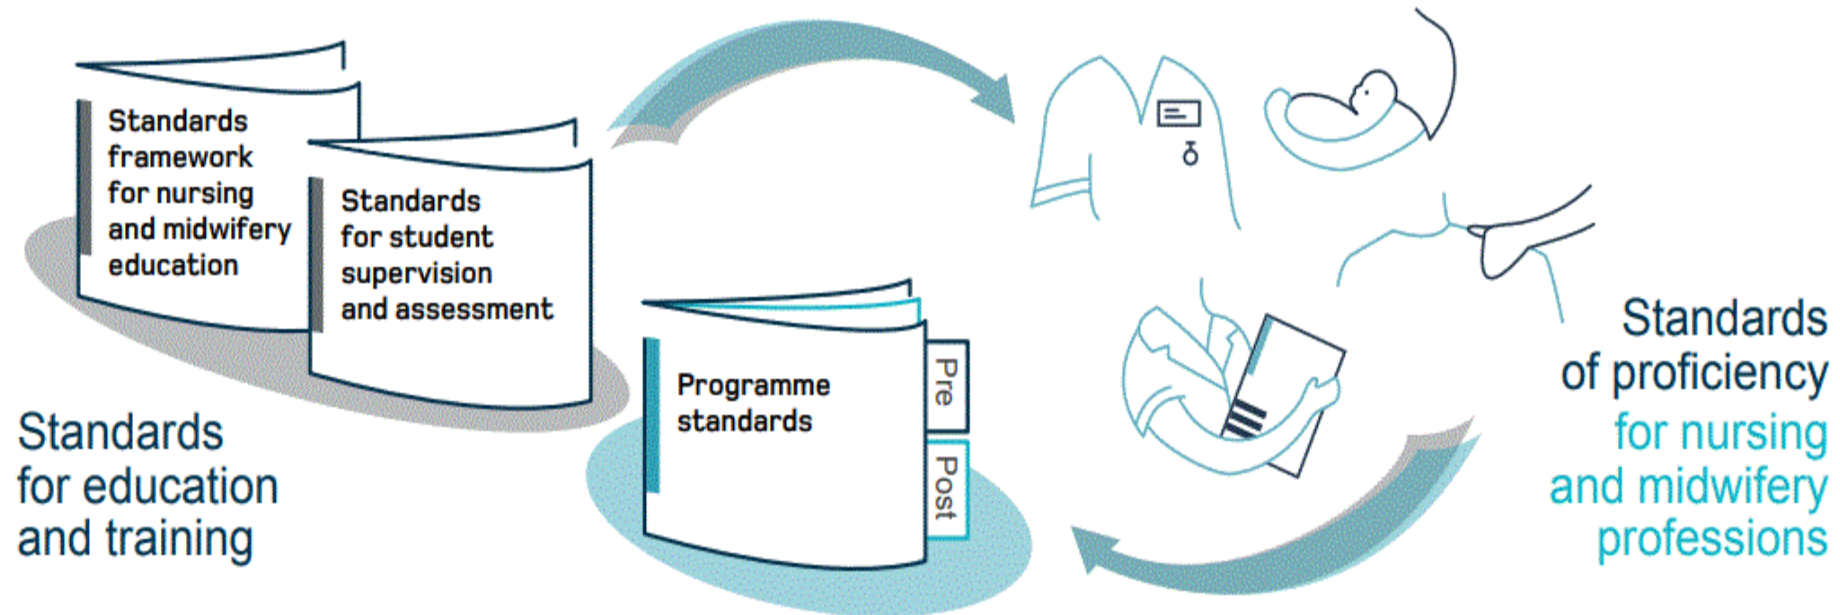

Aim

To increase awareness of FNFM and to support Non-HSC Organisations to become a practice learning environment for nursing and midwifery students

Supporting Students Within Your Organisation

- NMC Future Nurse Future Midwifery Education Standards (2018)
- The story of students in our Ardlough Private Nursing Home
- The students experience of learning in the independent sector
- How to get started: Guidance from University Link Lecturers

NMC Education Standards 2018

Link to NIPEC FNFM website:

<https://nipec.hscni.net/service/fnfm/>

The Story of Students in Ardlough Care Home

Martina Mullan & Mark Collins
Home Manager & Clinical Lead

The Student's Experience

Megan - Ulster University
&
Victoria - Queen's University Belfast

How to get started...

Gary Mitchell - Queens University Belfast
&
Andrea Shepherd - Ulster University

Link Lecturers

The Benefits to the Independent Sector

01

Promoting
Care Home
Career
Pathway for Nurses

02

Profiling the Integral Role
of the Care
Home Sector

03

Continuing Professional Development
for Staff
through role
of Practice
Supervisor

04

Promoting
Links & Collaboration with University

Supporting You to Support Nursing Students

- ✓ Free online training will be provided to help your staff support nursing students during their placement.
- ✓ A registered nurse from the university will act as the 'link lecturer' for your area.
- ✓ The name & contact details of your link lecturer will be provided to your area once you have registered your interest in supporting student placements.
- ✓ Your link lecturer will support you to complete the educational audit for your area & be engaged in the journey of nursing students who attend your area for placement.

Contacting The Right University

Contact the practice lead from the university that provides nursing placements within your area:

Open University:

Paul Carlin Paul.Carlin@open.ac.uk

All 5 Trust Areas

Queen's University Belfast

Nuala Devlin Nuala.Devlin@qub.ac.uk

Belfast, Southern & South Eastern Trust Areas

Ulster University

Seana Duggan s.duggan@ulster.ac.uk

Western & Northern Trust Areas

More Information on FNFM

@NIPEC_online

#NIFNFM

Visit the NIPEC website FNFM Non-HSC webpage
<https://nipec.hscni.net/service/fnfm/non-hsc-organisations/>

Non-HSC Organisations provide a unique opportunity for student nurses and midwives to obtain essential practice learning experiences, knowledge and skills. Non-HSC Organisations include:

- RQIA registered independent sector organisations such as nursing and residential care homes, day care services, domiciliary care, independent hospitals, nursing agencies, children's services etc.
- Hospices
- PSNI health services
- Other settings outside of Health and Social Care organisations

A range of resources have been developed with non-HSC Organisation representatives to support the Non-HSC sector. To determine if your organisation could support nursing or midwifery student supervision and assessment read the FNFM Non-HSC Organisations – Frequently Asked Questions document

Specific information relating to Students on placement during Coronavirus (Covid-19) can be read here.

Information on facilitating students in non-HSC organisations and how to initiate this process is available:

Related Projects

Future Nurse

Future Midwife

FNFM – Standards for Student Supervision and Assessment

FNFM – Resources

FNFM – Preparing to Support Students

FNFM – Non-HSC Organisations

FNFM – NMC Standards for Education and Training

Questions?